

Women Candidates Still Few in Brazil

Contributed by Graziela Sant'Anna
Monday, 04 October 2004

Despite the existence in Brazil of quotas which oblige political parties to reserve at least 30% of their candidacies for women in the case of proportional elections, this quota is not met.